

A kitchen classic ‘Made in Germany’

The latest Kludi Mix has an impressive feature set for outstanding convenience

Menden, Aug 2021. “Kludi Mix is the comprehensive solution that can do everything consumers expect from a kitchen fitting”, explains Marketing Director Arndt Papenfuß, who is also responsible for product management at Kludi (www.kludi.com), the fittings specialist from Germany’s Sauerland region. “Kludi Mix not only looks stunning but also impresses with its outstanding performance, reliability and various features that make working in the kitchen pleasantly simple and convenient.” Indeed, the premium brand, which has been developing and manufacturing quality fittings ‘Made in Germany’ for bathrooms and kitchens for almost 100 years, was especially concerned with creating added value in terms of everyday use for consumers when designing the Kludi Mix. It is obvious that, in addition to choosing high-quality materials, functionality and quality of use were clear priorities here. “After all, we want users to enjoy Kludi Mix for many years to come”, emphasises Arndt Papenfuß.

Top performance

Due in particular to the extensive feature set offered by the fitting, to satisfy users’ every need and desire. Kludi Mix is available in two performance classes: The ‘Comfort’ version offers all the basic features a kitchen sink needs for optimum performance, while the ‘Comfort Plus’ variant comes with four practical additional features for even more added value. Consumers can choose between a pull-out spout for more flexibility when working in the kitchen, a multi-connection and – from spring 2022 on – a fold-flat spout for installation under windows, as well as a pull-out hand spray with two spray types that can be easily switched at the touch of a button.

Elegant appearance

Optically, too, the new Kludi Mix makes a great impression at the kitchen sink, whether in glossy chrome or trendy matt black. The fitting combines flowing transitions with dynamic contours. The spout is angled gently upwards, freeing up space at the sink. The round body blends harmoniously with the semi-circular shape of the spout and the flat control lever on top. Customers can choose their favourite from an open bar handle or a closed lever. In short, it makes a no-frills, yet confident statement in the kitchen!
